

CLINTON COUNTY has three different but spectacular bodies of water. Dale Hollow skirts the southern boundaries, while Lake Cumberland covers the northern edge and the Cumberland River is the extreme north western border of Clinton County. This makes Clinton County unique in that you can go south and fish for world record smallmouth, travel north to fish for trophy size stripers, or kick back and wade the Cumberland River for premier trout fishing. Clinton County and her endless beauty offers everyone a chance to experience nature's wonder. So, when you think of where you could go to enjoy Kentucky's best kept secret, Make plans to visit Clinton County and all we have to offer.
